We're inviting parents and caregivers to join us as we present our third, free monthly parent workshop. This month, our topic is "What's normal? Communication Milestones" We highly encourage anyone who answers yes to the following questions to attend:

- Have you brought up concerns to your pediatrician and been told "Just wait and see"?
- Do extended family members have a hard time understanding your child?
- Are you looking for practical ways to increase your child's vocabulary?
- Does your child get frustrated when they're trying to communicate?

Our workshops will be presented by experienced Pediatric Occupational and Speech Therapists with specialized training and certification in Sensory Integration, Attachment and Childhood Trauma, SOS feeding techniques, language development and much more.
